

Globaltel Media Offers Educational Scholarships for Creative and Original Essay Writing

In an effort to promote youth scholarship and education through reading, writing, critical thinking and ingenuity, Globaltel Media Inc. is sponsoring eight scholarships, each in the amount of $250 to coincide with the release of the novel "Turned" by San Diego high school student Jenna Cooper.

The GTM scholarship requires applicants to be age 25 or under. Middle school, high school and college students are encouraged to put their creative talents and writing skills to the test by writing an essay of no more than 1,000 words as an analyses and assessment of "Turned," a novel by Jenna Cooper. Cooper, who is a senior in high school, has dazzled editors with her fantasy and creative plot themes in her novel "Turned." GTM encourages "out of the box" thinking and requests that applicants use proper grammar, correct spelling and creativity as well as taking poetic license in submitted essays. Some possible topics for the essay include, but are not limited to, internal character struggles, morals and dilemmas presented in "Turned" and how may they be applied to the world today, character development throughout the novel, and discussion of the theme of "Turned."

Deadline for entry is February 22 with winners announced by April 30, 2010. Please send essays to Essay Campaign, c/o Globaltel Media, 4653 Carmel Mountain Rd., Suite 308-508, San Diego, CA, 92130.

Globaltel Media, Inc. is a technology-enabling software firm whose mission is to make possible media delivery from the Internet to and from everyday cell phones, anytime, anywhere. Visit www.globaltelmedia.com for more information and to follow up with submissions.

#